Spotlight on the Interzonal

by Leonard Barden

Stockholm, 1962, may come to be recognized as the event which marked the beginning of a decisive shift of power in world chess. For the first time since the interzonal and candidates' tournaments began as eliminating contests for the championship in 1948, the Soviet grandmasters failed to capture first prize. Bobby Fischer's winning margin of 2½ points reflects his complete domination of the event. It owed nothing to luck: he never had a clearly lost position.

This was a victory remarkable not only for its margin, but for the maturity of chess style by which it was achieved. It seemed that Fischer was combining the iron logic of a Botvinnik, the fanatical zeal to win of Alekhine, and the endgame purity of Capablanca and Rubinstein.

Right from the early rounds, Fischer was among the leaders. After sharing the top spot with Dr. Miroslav Filip of Czechoslovakia and then with Wolfgang Uhlmann of East Germany, the United States representative took the lead on his own in the eleventh round, and was never again caught. The Soviet players made a fierce effort to deprive Bobby of first prize when they met him in Rounds 16-19: but, surviving a continuous battering from Ewfim Geller by an excellent blend of defense and counter-attack, and cracking the resistance of Victor Korchnoi at the end of the session, Bobby emerged with a plus score against the Russians. His total against the Soviet grandmasters at Bled and Stockholm combined is four wins, four draws, no defeats.

Now Fischer has qualified for the Candidates' tournament in Curacao, Dutch West Indies, in May and June. His opponents there will be Ewfim Geller, Paul Keres, Victor Korchnoi, Tigran Petrosian, and Mikhail Tal, all of the Soviet Union; Dr. Miroslav Filip of Czechoslovakia; and Pal Benko of the United States.

Benko Does Well

But for a blunder in the closing rounds against Lajos Portisch, Hungarian champion, Benko would also have brought off a brilliant success by qualifying for the Candidates' tournament without the need for a play-off match with Stein and Gligoric.

"U. S. AMATEUR"

The USCF has completed arrangements for this year's U.S. Amateur Chess Championship, to be played in Asbury Park over the weekend of May 25-26-27. The Amateur has long been one of the nation's most popular chess events, and there are indications that this year's tournament will be the largest ever.

In addition to trophies for the men's and women's amateur championship, three junior prizes will be awarded: one for the top scorer under 21 years of age, one for top under-18 player, and one for the best score by a 16-year-old or younger. Class A, B, C, and Unrated prizes will also be awarded.

This year, too, the Masters will get a break. Forty-five USCF masters are being invited to play in the Atlantic Coast Masters Tournament to be held concurrently with the Amateur.

But primarily, the U.S. Amateur is for the rank and file chess player, enabling him to test his skill (and rating!) by playing against a great variety of styles—improvement guaranteed.

For further details see the Tournament announcements on the back cover or write to the U.S. Chess Federation for a brochure.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP SET

The United States Women's Championship will be held in New York City from April 22 through May 6. Eleven of the top women players in the country, chosen according to their USCF ratings, will compete for the national title as well as for the right to represent the United States in the next Women's Candidates Tournament.

The lineup will consist of defending champion Lisa Lane, former champions Mary Bain, Gisela K. Gresser, M. May Karff, Women's Amateur Champion Greta Fuchs—all of New York City; Mary Selensky, Philadelphia; Lucille Kellner, Detroit; Jacqueline Piatigorsky, Los Angeles; Eva Aronson, Chicago; Mildred Morrell, Arella, Pa.; and Kate Silars, Wilmette, Ill. The tournament will be played at the Marshall and Manhattan Chess Clubs, except for round eight, which will be played at the London Terrace Club. Dr. Edward Lasker will direct.

CURACAO PROSPECTS.

I asked Alexander Kotov, captain of the Russian grandmasters in Stockholm, what will be one of the 64-dollar questions at Curacao. "What will your grandmasters do," I said, "if, at the beginning of the last round at Curacao, Fischer and Tal are level in first place and Fischer has to meet Geller and Tal plays Petrosian? Wouldn't Petrosian be tempted to throw the game to Tal?"

Kotov replied: "No Soviet player has ever thrown a game to another Soviet competitor in an international tournament. On the contrary, I myself defeated Botvinnik when he was fighting it out for first prize with Euwe at Groningen 1946, and I again won from Smyslov when he and Reshevsky were contesting the lead in the 1953 Candidates' tournament.

"Of course, there have been short draws, without fight, among Soviet grandmasters in international events; but you can see for yourself that this does not only happen with Russian players, nor indeed only with competitors from the same country. Look, for instance, at the games played in international events between grandmaster Stahlberg and other players with peaceful styles."

Of course, it is an advantage to a grandmaster to know that he can notch up a short draw with a compatriot or friend when he feels like a rest day, while his rival may have to fight hard to score the same half point. This is the main respect in which, in fact, Bobby will be handicapped by there being five Russians at Curacao. On the other hand, Bobby has shown no signs, in the previous Candidates' event or at other long tournaments like Bled or Stockholm, of any lack of stamina—rather the reverse. Given the leisurely schedule of an event like the Candidates', he will suffer little, and may even gain, from having to play every game 'hard.'

My estimate: odds are about 3-1 on Bobby being among the top three in Curacao, and around 2-1 against him winning.

A Soviet View of Bobby Fischer

by International Grandmaster Alexander Kotov

(specially contributed to CHESS LIFE)

Curiously enough, I only met Bobby Fischer for the first time in Stockholm. When he visited Moscow, I was out of town, and I never met him at other tournaments. However, I knew very well his excellent games, and had many stories and anecdotes about him. After these stories, I was expecting to see a young boy in strange clothes, making rude remarks all the time; but it was a great pleasure for me to see quite another person.

Fischer in Stockholm was an elegant young man, saying very little, rather shy. He was sometimes nervous during the game, and asked that spectators should not disturb him. It is true that he never greeted the chief referee, grandmaster G. Stahlberg, and reminded me of my colleague S. Reshevsky, who never greeted me and other participants during the two-months' Candidates' Tournament in Zurich 1953.

But Bobby conquered the hearts of Swedish chessplayers with his brilliant play and his boundless love for chess. The most interesting endgames that Fischer played in Stockholm were stamped with the highest class of accuracy and precision. I talked with the ex-champion of the world Max Euwe, when he visited Stockholm during the tournament, and he also was surprised with the extraordinary qualities of the eighteen-year-old player. Fischer played the endgame with Barcza in the style of Capablanca; against Gligoric, he defended in the ending with the wisdom of the most experienced old chess wolf.

After every game, Bobby took the chessboard and pieces along to the cloakroom; this was the only place available for post-mortem analysis. He analyzed his games for many hours, no matter whether his opponent was grandmaster Petrosian or Aaron from India, who was last in the Stockholm tournament. He was not stuck-up or supercilious.

After Geller's defeat by Pomar, Fischer had two points more than his nearest rivals. "How many points did you score in 1952?" Bobby asked me, as we walked from the tournament hall to the hotel.

I laughed. "You are seeking one more rival," I replied. "I scored 16½ out of 20." Bobby began to count. "Then I must have 18½," he said: "I shall have!"

And he finished the tournament with an excellent score. He did not lose a game, and scored many brilliant victories.

"What do the New York newspapers write about your successes?" I asked Bobby on one occasion.

"Nothing," he answered angrily. "They like to write only bad things about me."

And in a little while I knew these "bad things." The laughing Stahlberg showed me "Harper's Magazine" for January, 1962. It is incorrect that Mr. Ginzburg should write in such a way about one of the strongest chessplayers of the world.

It is true that Fischer is a little bit of a prima-donna in chess; and it is right that he ought to continue his studies. He should remember that all the world champions have been highly educated men. Lasker, Capablanca, Alekhine, and Botvinnik must be the examples for young men. I think that when Bobby grows up, he will understand this himself.

In May and June in Curacao a new struggle will begin, at a higher level. Some people have already proclaimed: no question—first in Curacao will be Bobby Fischer; and he will easily defeat Botvinnik, as Bobby is the greatest chess genius of all time!

I decided to ask some grandmasters in Stockholm: will Bobby defeat everybody in such a short time? Will he be champion of the world in 1963, as some people have already claimed? Most grandmasters answered: Fischer will be among the leaders in Curacao, but not first. Dr. Euwe thinks the same. There are still some weaknesses in Fischer's style, because of his youth, and they will not yet permit him to beat all the strongest grandmasters of the world.

But his future possibilities are limitless. Soviet chessplayers will join in acclaiming the success of such rare chess talent. After his victory in Stockholm, Fischer received many letters from the Soviet Union.

The chess world will watch every step of the flowering of Bobby Fischer's talent; and he must be worthy of this attention.

ACTIVITY MEANS MEMBERS

Sponsor One More Tournament This Year

The slogan "Activity Means Members" has certainly been practiced, in theory, in every region of the U.S.C.F. during 1961. The total number of rated events, exclusive of national tournaments and individual matches, amounted to 274 during the 12 month period. These rated events enabled the U.S.C.F. regions to produce 1219 new members bringing our total to a new high of 5909 members. This activity is distributed throughout the regions as follows:

Even though this progress is unequalled in past U.S.C.F. history it still leaves much that can be improved upon during 1962. For example, 274 rated events is excellent but when you consider that eight states account for 149 of this total it certainly reduces the amount of serious chess for the remaining 42 states. Another example is that 10 states did not have even one rated event during 1961. The most active states are as follows:

|                    | No. of U.S.C.F.Rated Events | Increase inMembership | TotalMembership |
|--------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------------|---------------------|

| California .....   | 27                              | 155                       | 765                 |

| New Jersey .....   | 19                              | 52                        | 296                 |
| Ohio .....         | 14                              | 44                        | 290                 |
| Pennsylvania ..... | 12                              | 133                       | 376                 |
| Arizona .....      | 11                              | 79                        | 113                 |
| Florida .....      | 10                              | 15                        | 122                 |

In 1961 an ambitious goal of 10,000 members by August 1963 was set. Actually this figure is not unrealistic and can be attained. It will take, however, the combined efforts of every officer of every chess organization throughout the country. We need rated S. S. Tourneys, we need rated Round Robin Tourneys, we need rated Ladder Tourneys—in other words we need increased activity.

To get this project off the ground the membership committee appeals to every state, association, and local chess club president to add one more U.S.C.F. rated event to their agenda during 1962. These events do not have to be weekend affairs since excellent results can be accomplished in local clubs with "A Game A Week" tourneys. Please let us know as these tourneys are planned so that we can give you the publicity it deserves.

Congratulatory to Bill Newberry and the state of Connecticut! Bill writes—
"A long range project we have in Connecticut is a high school tournament in each county with U.S.C.F. memberships for prizes. The champions of each county will then be eligible for play in the state play offs. Over the years we expect this project to give us a steady increase in U.S.C.F. memberships."

(This kind of leadership has enabled Connecticut to increase its membership over 50% since operation 'M' began—Keep up the good work.)

Our committee is proud to announce that it has assisted in organizing its first tournament. In reply to a request from a Class B Woodpusher, wanting to play some rated chess, we sent out letters to all class B players in his city. In 3 days we had received eight replies and now a nine man Class B round robin is under way.

TWO GRANDMASTERS ANNOTATE INTERZONAL

One of the most discussed games of the tournament, and a splendid fight between White's attacking potential in the center and king's side and Black's operations on the queen's wing black squares. Here international grandmaster Victor Korchnoi tells you why he lost to Bobby, in notes specially contributed to CHESS LIFE.

A better move is 14. ...., N-N3!; which leads to complete equality.

|     |       |       |
|-----|-------|-------|
| 15. | P-Q5! | ..... |
|-----|-------|-------|

A strong continuation, which improves on 15. B-N2, N-B3!; 16. P-Q5, N-N5 (Capablanca-Bogolyubov, London 1922); when Black gains the advantage of the pair of bishops.

|     |       |      |
|-----|-------|------|
| 15. | ..... | N-Q2 |
| 16. | QN-Q2 | B-B3 |

Black is aiming to secure play on the black squares before White can build up his forces for a king's side attack.

|     |      |       |
|-----|------|-------|
| 17. | R-N1 | P-B5? |
|-----|------|-------|

The over-optimistic plan begun by the text move leaves Black with important pawn weaknesses on the queen's wing, and eventually conceded Black's Q5 as a jumping-off square for White's minor pieces. Black ought to have played 17. ...., N-K4; 18. P-KR3, NxN ch; 19. NxN, BxN; 20. QxB, P-N5; when the black-square pawn chain restricts White's operations.

|     |        |       |
|-----|--------|-------|
| 18. | P-KR3! | ..... |
|-----|--------|-------|

White does not fall for 18. P-N4?, P-B6!; 19. PxN, PxN; 20. BxP, N-K4; when the ensuing break-up of the pawn protection of White's king more than compensates for White's extra doubled pawn.

|     |       |     |
|-----|-------|-----|
| 18. | ..... | BxN |
|-----|-------|-----|

Giving White the two bishops, but if 18. ...., B-R4; 19. P-QN4! is now strong: 19. ...., P-B6; 20. PxN, PxN; 21. BxP, N-K4; 22. P-KN4.

|     |     |     |
|-----|-----|-----|
| 19. | NxB | PxP |
|-----|-----|-----|

A forced exchange. If 19. ...., P-B6; which looks tempting, then 20. P-R3!, followed by P-QN4, and the advanced QBP, which is securely blockaded, will eventually be won by the combined action of the white pieces (B-K3-Q4, R-N3, and R-K3).

|     |       |       |
|-----|-------|-------|
| 20. | PxP   | Q-B2  |
| 21. | B-K3? | ..... |

Up to here, White has played in excellent style, but this inaccurate move considerably improves the Black position. White ought to play 21. B-Q2 or, still better, 21. R-K2!, protecting the KB and preparing the powerful manoeuvre N-Q4.

|     |       |      |
|-----|-------|------|
| 21. | ..... | B-B6 |
| 22. | R-K2  | P-N5 |

Now Black has sufficient play on the black squares.

|     |      |        |
|-----|------|--------|
| 23. | N-Q4 | KR-K1? |
|-----|------|--------|

Worried by his loose pawn front and his scattered minor pieces, Black decides that he ought to get another piece into play rather than spend a move protecting his king's side. However, Fischer soon demonstrates that the white knight obtains splendid prospects on the king's side, hence 23. ...., P-N3 is much better.

|     |        |          |
|-----|--------|----------|
| 24. | N-B5   | N(R4)-N2 |
| 25. | B-Q4!  | P-N3     |
| 26. | N-R6ch | K-B1     |
| 27. | R-B1!  | .....    |

This powerful move is a reminder to Black that he has problems on the QB file as well as in the neighborhood of his king.

|     |       |       |
|-----|-------|-------|
| 27. | ..... | QR-B1 |
|-----|-------|-------|

In the event of White's exchanging bishops, Black wants to be ready to recapture with a piece (queen or rook) rather than be left with a pawn on QB6 which will most likely be fatally weak.

|     |       |       |
|-----|-------|-------|
| 28. | B-Q3? | ..... |
|-----|-------|-------|

This inaccuracy grants Black a fresh chance of recovery. A very strong continuation here was 28. R-K3!, with the threat of 29. BxB, PxP; 30. Q-Q4!, P-B3; 31. B-N1, when the QBP would fall.

|     |          |       |

| 28. | .....    | Q-R4  |
| 29. | R(K2)-B2 | N-K4  |
| 30. | B-B1     | N-B4! |

Sacrificing a pawn for the moment; but the black pieces obtain excellent activity.

| 31. | BxB  | PxB   |

| 33. | N-N4 | NxN   |
| 34. | QxN  | R-QN1 |
| 35. | R-B3 | ..... |

White's best chance is to revive his attack on the king's wing.

|     |       |      |
|-----|-------|------|
| 35. | ..... | NxKP |
| 36. | Q-B4  | P-B4 |

|-----|------|-------|
| 37. | R-K3 | R-K4  |
| 38. | R-B6 | ..... |

|     |       |         |
|-----|-------|---------|
| 38. | ..... | QR-K1!? |
|-----|-------|---------|

Short of time, I overlooked White's next move completely. Even so, the text is not bad, but for practical purposes Black ought to choose the simple 38. ...., P-N4, maintaining a good position without risk.

Dr. Miroslav Filip (seated) patiently awaits the start of the round while Korchnoi (facing camera), Fischer and Benko circulate. Dr. Filip finished fourth.

39. RxQP .....

Here 39. RxRP, QxP leaves the chances about level.

39. .... Q-R8??

A bad error, after which Black is two pawns behind with no compensation. Correct and necessary is 39. ...., P-N4!; 40. R-Q7 ch, K-N3; 41. Q-B3, Q-N3!; with the threat 42. ...., NxP!

- For instance: (a) 42. B-Q3?, NxP; 43. RxR, NxB dis. ch.
 (b) 42. P-N4, NxP; 43. RxR, NxB dis. ch.
 (c) 42. RxN! (best), RxR; 43. P-N4, R-KB5; 44. PxB ch, K-R3; 45. Q-N3, R-K4 with at least a draw.

Instead, Black panics at the unexpected turn of events, and Fischer efficiently finishes the game in a few moves.

- 40. RxRP Q-Q5
41. R-Q3 Q-N7
42. P-Q6 P-N4
43. Q-K3 P-B5
44. Q-R7ch Resigns

Black loses a rook after 44. ...., K-B1; 45. P-Q7, R-Q1; 46. Q-N6, K-K2; 47. QxR ch, KxQ; 48. R-R8 ch, and 49. P-Q8(Q) ch.

Notes specially contributed to CHESS LIFE by International Grandmaster Ewfm Geller.

CARO KANN

Geller .....

- 1. P-K4 P-QB3
2. N-QB3 P-Q4
3. N-B3 B-N5
4. P-KR3 BxN
5. QxB N-B3
6. P-KN3 .....

6. P-Q3 is played more often nowadays. In my opinion, the text continuation has been undeservedly forgotten.

6. .... P-K3

In the event of 6. ...., PxB; there follows 7. Q-K2! followed by B-N2 and settling a minor piece on White's K4, while after 6. ...., NxP it would be interesting to test the gambit continuation 7. NxN, PxB; 8. Q-N3.

- 7. B-N2 B-N5
8. P-K5 .....

Worth considering here is 8. O-O!, BxN; 9. QxB, PxB; 10. P-N3, as occurred in the game Kliavin-Petrosian, Soviet team championship 1960, when White has promising attacking prospects in return for the sacrificed pawn.

- 8. .... KN-Q2
9. Q-K2? .....

After this defensive move, Black gets a good game. The more active 9. Q-N4 was preferable.

- 9. .... P-QB4
10. P-R3 B-R4
11. N-N5! .....

Probably the best chance in this position. By countering Black's positional threat of ...., N-QB3-Q5 in good time, White gains a breathing space to develop his pieces.

- 11. .... O-O
12. O-O N-QB3
13. P-KB4 P-B5?

Black should have preferred 13. ...., P-QR3; 14. N-Q6, Q-B2; when he threatens both to undermine White's knight outpost with ...., P-B3 and also to continue with ...., N-Q5. After 13. ...., P-QR3 Black would, indeed, have a big positional advantage.

- 14. K-R2 P-QR3
15. N-B3 R-B1
16. P-Q3 .....

16. .... N-Q5?

The correct idea (attack against White's queen-side), but its execution is incorrect. After 16. ...., PxB; 17. QxP, N-B4; 18. Q-Q1, BxN; 19. PxB, N-R5!; Black's game is preferable owing to the pronounced weakness of White's queen's wing pawns.

However, it is fair to remark that after 20. B-Q2, N-R4; 21. R-B3 White can still put up a solid defense and remains with potential chances of attack against the black king.

- 17. Q-B2 BxN
18. PxB N-N4
19. P-Q4! P-B4?

The decisive mistake. After 19. ...., NxBP; 20. Q-K3, N-R5; 21. P-B5, K-R1 Black's position would still have been defensible.

20. B-N2 .....

But not 20. PxB e.p., NxKBP; 21. Q-K1, R-K1; followed by ...., N-Q3; when Black inserts a knight at the important outpost square K5.

- 20. .... R-KB2
21. P-QR4 N-R2
22. B-R3 P-QN4
23. P-N4! PxB

White has revealed his hidden trumps on the king's side, and now his attack becomes crushing. Slightly better here is 23. ...., P-N3; 24. NPxB, KNPxB; although White's attack remains very strong.

- 24. PxB RxP
25. B-B3! .....

Evidently, Portisch had not noticed this move.

- 25. .... RxBP
26. Q-N3 Q-R5

If 26. ...., R-KB2; 27. B-R5, RxR; 28. RxR is immediately decisive, as White's rook penetrates to KB7.

27. BxP! .....

The final blow.

- 27. .... QxQch
28. KxQ R-N5ch

Despair. After 28. ...., RxR; 29. BxP ch, R-B2; 30. R-KB1, White wins easily.

- 29. PxB PxR
30. B-N4 Resigns

(Notes translated by Chessmaster Peter Clarke).

WORTHWHILE?

Are the Interzonal and Candidates Tournaments worthwhile? All right, so I should have my head examined for asking such a silly question. But silly or not, there are a lot of chess players in the United States who didn't think much of the Interzonal, because after 3 months of hard trying, the fund still has not hit the thousand dollar mark, and is some $150.00 short of the $1125.00 commitment.

Now comes the Candidates which is even more expensive (full 2 months duration). Total cost of the Interzonal was $3000.00 . . . total cost of Candidates is $5000.00. Each participating nation has not only the fees, travel and incidental expenses of the player representatives to cover, but also expenses of the second or seconds. In our case there will be one second to be shared by our two representatives (we are negotiating with Robert Byrne); if we were to furnish 2 seconds the total cost would be considerably in excess of $5000.00.

As usual the venture will be underwritten by the Federation and the Foundation, but I have had to inform the ACF that we could not maintain the 1-to-2 ratio of participation we have undertaken with the Interzonal and previous projects, that, based on the rather half-hearted response to our Interzonal appeal in some areas, we would not be able to commit ourselves to more than $1000.00 for the candidates. I must say that ACF officers Fried, Kasper and Wallach accepted this dreary 1-to-4 partnership agreement cheerfully and manfully!

The 5 Russian participants will have plenty of seconds and plenty of backing. Can we afford to give our players less than the barely adequate support outlined above? Ask yourselves this question, then take the time and effort needed to solicit financial assistance from your friends and fellow chess club members and mail a check to the USCF office, 80 E. 11 St., New York 3, N.Y. As with the Interzonal a contributors' list will be published.

I have heard a few comments during recent weeks to the effect that CHESS LIFE readers are "up-to-here" with incessant appeals to the membership for their concrete support of U. S. international endeavors. It is significant, I think, that these remarks were made by individuals who did not contribute to the Interzonal Fund and, conceivably, will not contribute to the Candidates Fund. Those who did contribute, I know, are especially happy over our success in Stockholm and are equally anxious to contribute in his or her small way to our success at CURACAO! In which group are you?!

Stein chooses a new plan, designed to stop the Black Queen settling on Q3, its optimum square in this variation. He handles his advantage in excellent style.

UHLMANN—1

OLAFSSON—0

KING'S INDIAN

Uhlmann was in fine form in the early rounds, and here shows the merits of his favorite Four Pawns' Attack. Olafsson ought to have played 13. ...., N-N5! or 13. ...., N-Q2! for an equal game: afterwards Uhlmann's strong 17th and 18th moves give him a winning advantage.

SICILIAN DEFENSE

A complicated piece sacrifice by Olafsson: Bertok misses the best defense of 21. ...., O-O-O! Olafsson played the last dozen moves with his flag practically dropping and with neither master taking down the score: so Bertok plays until mate, a queen and a knight down.

GLIGORIC—0

KING'S INDIAN

Trying too hard to make something out of nothing, Gligoric spurns a draw by repetition, wrongly opens the KB file for the white pieces, then overlooks a snap combination.

YANOFSKY—1

BENKO—0

SICILIAN DEFENSE

Canada's top master excels in quiet positions. Here he steadily increases his stranglehold on the position, and Benko's desperate attempt to break out only hastens Black's defeat.

BISGUIER—0 GILGORIC—1
QUEEN'S PAWN OPENING

After his continuous round of tournaments in recent months, Bisguier was clearly stale at Stockholm. Here Gilgoric, determined to regain contact with the leaders, outplays him in trenchant style.

OLAFSSON—1 AARON—0
SICILIAN DEFENSE

The inexperienced Indian was handicapped by lack of opening knowledge: here 9. ...., P-QN4 is premature (the pawn becomes a target for White's P-QR4), and 12. ...., N-K1 is passive. When he blunders away a rook, Black's game is already lost.

BISGUIER—0 FISCHER—1

Bisguier plays an anti-Sicilian system shown him by Heidenfeld of South Africa (Yanofsky's second). Fischer finds a powerful innovation (7. ...., N-B2!) but misses the most accurate follow-up (12. ...., Q-B1!). Bisguier would have had a sound game with 24. Q-K1!: missing this, he is outplayed in powerful style.

UHLMANN—0 TESCHNER—1
SLAV DEFENSE

Did the Berlin wall decide the result of the game? For, against Uhlmann (East Germany), Teschner (West Berlin) showed his finest form of the tournament, and started Uhlmann on a catastrophic run of defeats which plummeted him out of the leading group. Uhlmann should have played 17. B-Q2 (instead of 17. B-KB4): for in the game Teschner made his advantage clear by the fine 20. ...., P-Q6! (21. Bxp?, NxB; 22. RxN, Q-QN4 and wins).

KING'S INDIAN

SICILIAN DEFENSE

KING'S INDIAN

Bertok's middle game errors cede important squares for Korchnoi's pieces. 10. ...., N-N5! followed by ...., N-R3 is better than 10. ...., N-R4, 16. ...., P-B5? gives White a fine out-post square at K4, and 19. ...., N-N2? (19. ...., N-B3!) gives White a free hand on the king's side-of which Korchnoi takes full advantage.

An early ...., P-QR3 combined with a Dragon set-up in the Sicilian gives White too free a hand in the center and on the king's side, as Fischer demonstrates by non-stop pressure.

A dramatic recovery by Uhlmann from the verge of defeat. Filip misses a clear win by 19. Q-B3!, when the threat of 20. P-KN4 is decisive. Next move, 20. P-N4? is an oversight—simply 20. QxP still keeps a winning advantage. After that, White could still probably hold the game until his knight strays from the centre on moves 27-8. Opening note: after this game, even the East Germans consider the ...., N-QB3 and ...., P-K4 system inferior for Black.

GELLER—1

BENKO—0

CARO-KANN

Geller was the only Russian to defeat the U.S. Open champion. Black's premature K-side action (moves 10-13) gives him a passive position: trying to break out, Benko overlooks 27. R-KB1! (27. ...., QxN; 28. BxNP!).

STEIN—1

PORTISCH—0

SICILIAN DEFENSE

The most elegant miniature of the tournament: Black's opening errors (improvements are 7. ...., P-QN4! and later 10. ...., P-Q4!) are brilliantly refuted.

AARON—0

STEIN—1

HROMADKA SYSTEM

Stein improves on the famous Penrose-Tal game from Leipzig 1960 by developing his QN at QR3 instead of Q2. The Indian loses time by 12. P-QR4? (12. P-B4!) and then Stein finds an original way of trapping the queen.

QUEEN'S GAMBIT DECLINED

Could Stein have taken better advantage of Black's weakened pawns in this ending? The other Russians thought so, for they all tried to show him better ways to play.

THE CLINCHER!

Fischer rounds off a brilliant performance by making certain of first prize with two rounds to spare.

SICILIAN DEFENSE

|                |  |                  |
|----------------|--|------------------|
| Fischer |  | Bolbochan |
| 1. P-K4        |  | P-QB4            |
| 2. N-KB3       |  | P-Q3             |
| 3. P-Q4        |  | PxP              |
| 4. NxP         |  | N-KB3            |
| 5. N-QB3       |  | P-QR3            |
| 6. P-KR3       |  | .....            |

A surprise for Bolbochan, who was only expecting Fischer's 'patent' move 6. B-QB4. 6. P-KR3 is a recommendation of Weaver Adams, but it has found little favor among masters till now.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 6. ....  | N-B3  |
| 7. P-KN4 | NxN   |
| 8. QxN   | P-K4  |
| 9. Q-Q3  | B-K2? |

This obvious developing move is at the root of Black's future troubles. Now his queen's side pieces get in a tangle, and he has to lose several important tempi to achieve a satisfactory formation. 9. ...., B-K3! is right, so that if 10. P-N5, N-Q2; and the knight does not interfere with the bishop's development.

|           |       |
|-----------|-------|
| 10. P-N5! | ..... |
|-----------|-------|

Much stronger than 10. B-N2?, B-K3; as occurred in the brilliancy prize game Gereben-Geller, Budapest 1952, which brought 6. P-KR3 into disrepute.

|           |      |
|-----------|------|
| 10. ....  | N-Q2 |
| 11. B-K3  | N-B4 |
| 12. Q-Q2  | B-K3 |
| 13. O-O-O | O-O  |
| 14. P-B3  | R-B1 |
| 15. K-N1  | N-Q2 |

A confession that the knight really belongs at QN3.

|           |       |
|-----------|-------|
| 16. P-KR4 | P-N4  |
| 17. B-R3! | ..... |

This fine move consolidates White's advantage. He threatens 18. N-Q5, BxN; 19. QxB, when 20. Q-N7 immediately threatens and the bishops rake the black position. So Black is constrained to exchange bishops himself; but it brings him no relief.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 17. .... | BxB   |
| 18. RxB  | N-N3  |
| 19. BxN! | ..... |

Fischer's flair for finding the strongest and simplest plans in "strategical" positions is highly reminiscent of Capablanca and Rubinstein at their peak.

|            |       |
|------------|-------|
| 19. ....   | QxB   |
| 20. N-Q5   | Q-Q1  |
| 21. P-KB4! | ..... |

Naturally not 21. NxB ch?, QxN; 22. QxP??, QR-Q1!; but now P-B5-6 is threatened, so that Black has to exchange and give White's queen and rooks still greater scope.

|           |       |
|-----------|-------|
| 21. ....  | PxP   |
| 22. QxP   | Q-Q2  |
| 23. Q-B5! | QR-Q1 |

Surrendering the file: but 23. ...., Q-Q1 fails to 24. QxR!, while 23. ...., KR-Q1 loses to 24. QxQ, RxQ; 25. N-N6.

|            |       |
|------------|-------|
| 24. R-R3   | Q-R2  |
| 25. R-QB3! | ..... |

Many of the spectators thought that 25. N-B6 ch led to a forced win, but Fischer had seen further. If 25. N-B6 ch, BxN; 26. PxB, P-N3; 27. Q-N5, K-R1; 28. Q-R6, R-KN1; 29. P-R5, P-N4; or if here 29. R-R3, Q-N2 (counter-attacking the KP) and Black has counter-chances.

|          |      |
|----------|------|
| 25. .... | P-N3 |
| 26. Q-N4 | Q-Q2 |

If he keeps the white rook out by 26. ...., R-Q2; then 27. P-R5, with a winning attack.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 27. Q-B3 | Q-K3  |
| 28. R-B7 | QR-K1 |

Or 28. ...., KR-K1; 29. R-KB1, and Black is left virtually movebound.

|           |       |
|-----------|-------|
| 29. N-B4! | Q-K4  |
| 30. R-Q5! | Q-R1  |
| 31. P-R3! | ..... |

Neatly demonstrating that Black is in virtual Zugzwang: if he does nothing, White simply picks up the QRP by R-R7.

|          |      |
|----------|------|
| 31. .... | P-R3 |
|----------|------|

Black tries to break out, but only hastens the end.

|           |      |
|-----------|------|
| 32. PxP   | QxP  |
| 33. P-R5! | B-N4 |

If 33. ...., P-N4; 34. N-N2, followed by N-K3 and N-B5 or N-N4 decides.

|          |     |
|----------|-----|
| 34. PxP! | PxP |
|----------|-----|

Or 34. ...., BxN; 35. PxP ch, RxP; 36. RxR, KxR; 37. R-B5 ch, winning easily.

|            |       |
|------------|-------|
| 35. Q-QN3! | ..... |
|------------|-------|

An elegant final stroke. If Black avoids the discovered check by 35. ...., K-R1; then 36. NxP ch!, QxN; 37. RxB!, QxR; 38. Q-R3 ch forces mate.

|                  |         |
|------------------|---------|
| 35. ....         | RxN     |
| 36. R-K5 dis.ch. | K-B1    |
| 37. RxR ch       | Resigns |

For if 37. ...., KxR; 38. Q-K6 ch, K-B1; 39. Q-B8 ch, and mate next move.

A worthy climax to Fischer's finest tournament performance to date.

SAN ANTONIO INVITES YOU

The 1962 U.S. Open Story

By Major Ed Edmondson, USCF Vice-President

Ever since the Alamo City was selected as the site of this August's 1962 U.S. Open Chess Championship, your Tournament Committee has been striving for a program which every USCF member could enjoy.

Our wishes are three:

(1) To acquaint you with the possibilities of San Antonio and Texas as the ideal locale for a truly wonderful family vacation. The playing schedule leaves you with free time every day, on two or three evenings, and for the greater part of one weekend. Plan now to visit San Antonio this year—and bring the wife and kids for the time of their lives!

(2) To attract both strength and quantity to compete in what has long been the hemisphere's outstanding annual chess event. We definitely expect to have a liberal prize fund and to reward the top players handsomely. In addition, a unique and entirely separate system of Handicap and Upset Awards will provide players of medium and lesser strength with a crack at extremely worthwhile prizes.

(3) To provide the best physical facilities and the best-run tournament humanly possible. From August 13th through 25th, your comfort, convenience, and enjoyment will be our primary interest.

In this issue of CHESS LIFE, we introduce your Host City.

San Antonio—Where Life is Different

One of the most picturesque and historic cities of America, San Antonio has lived under six flags—French, Spanish, Mexican, Republic of Texas, Confederate, and United States. She is a proud old dowager, aloof from casual tags and easy comparisons; a city of contrasts, of old-world missions dozing peacefully in the shadows of shiny new skyscrapers.

San Antonio is, of course, steeped in history. Here the battle cry, "Remember the Alamo!" was born. The building known as the Alamo was originally Mission San Antonio de Valero, and this famous Shrine of Texas Liberty stands today in the heart of downtown San Antonio. Visitors to its hushed halls can relive in their imaginations the valorous story of Davy Crockett, Jim Bowie, William Travis, and the 184 others who died for freedom's cause in 1836.

Four other Spanish missions, all started between 1720 and 1731, are some of the finest examples of these establishments to be found in the United States. San Jose, "Queen of the Missions," is famous for its beauty of architectural form and the wealth of its sculpture. Numbered among its treasures is one of the finest carved windows in America—the famous Rose Window. Daily services are still held here and in Mission Capistrano, Mission Concepcion, and Mission Espada. Near Mission Espada, you can view a two and one-half century old aqueduct that is still in use.

Returning to downtown San Antonio, we find the Spanish Governor's Palace (wedding place of Jim Bowie) open to the visitor. Early Viceroy's of the King of Spain held court in this ancient building, which bears the Hapsburg coat of arms and the date, 1748. Walls of the palace are of 3-foot thick adobe, and its furnishings depict the early Spanish colonial period.

Near the Governor's Palace is the historic San Fernando Cathedral, constructed in 1749 by the first settlers of San Antonio. From its towers echoed the trumpets that heralded the arrival of Santa Anna, and today within its walls are buried the last earthly remains of the defenders of the Alamo.

But San Antonio has many faces. She is, to view another countenance, a military town. Here General Robert E. Lee decided to cast his lot with the South. And here General William Tecumseh Sherman served a hitch before casting his with the North. The horse of General John J. Pershing was once allowed inside the lobby of the Gunter Hotel, the only animal in history to be so honored. Ike met Mamie here, and Douglas MacArthur set a scholastic record that still stands at San Antonio's Texas Military Institute.

Fort Sam Houston, now headquarters for the Fourth Army, is one of the largest military posts in the country. Geronimo, the Apache warrior, was imprisoned here in 1886 in a now-famous landmark, the Fort Sam Houston clock tower. In 1910 at Fort Sam, a young lieutenant named Benjamin D. Foulois was given $150, a wrecked biplane, and a mission—which he accomplished when he made the nation's first military flight, giving birth to our present-day Air Force.

A few years later, another pilot almost washed out while training at San Antonio's Brooks Field. He didn't, though, which is probably just as well. His name was Charles Lindbergh, and he made a right good aviator.

Many flyers were trained and many aviation movies were made at San Antonio bases during the 1930s. Especially prominent in those days was Randolph Air Force Base, known then as "The West Point of the Air."

Air Center

Today the city ranks as one of the world's vital centers of aerospace activity. Randolph houses the headquarters of our far-flung Air Training Command and is also the home of the T-38 Talon, first supersonic jet training aircraft. Lackland, largest Air Force Base in the world, provides basic training for all newcomers to the air arm and is known as the "Gateway to the Air Force." Kelly, the nation's oldest military air field, is the country's largest aircraft repair base and handles our giant B-52 bombers. Brooks AFB is now the site of the U.S. Aerospace Medical Center, where research is done on the biological and physiological impacts of space flight on man. It is the home base of the medical team for Lt. Col. John H. Glenn and his companion astronauts of Project Mercury. And in reply to Caroline's "Where's the monkey?"—he's here, too.

Scenic Excitement

San Antonio is also a downtown river, fetchingly landscaped and so crooked the Indians used to call it "Drunken Old Man Going Home at Night." Paved walks border the river's edges, and its banks are covered with lush semi-tropical plants and flowers. It's exciting anytime, but especially as the lights begin to twinkle in the skyscrapers at eventide. You'll be in for a thrilling new experience as you dine at an exotic riverside restaurant, or take a gondola ride down to the Arneson River Theater. In this perfect open-air setting, "Fiesta Noche del Rio"—literally translated "Party Night on the River"—is staged throughout the summer months. The spectacular show features Latin dancers and singers and is staged on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights.

Across the river from the theater is La Villita, or "Little Town." This is a city-block restoration of San Antonio's earliest residential settlement. Many skills and crafts of the early settlement are still pursued in the old adobes, and the finished wares are available to the visitor.

Another summer attraction is "The Drama of the Alamo." This nationally acclaimed production is presented in an outdoor setting. You sit right in the center of the battle, with action taking place all around you.

Families together in San Antonio always enjoy visiting the 363-acre Brackenridge Park. Here the world's longest miniature railroad winds its way among moss-draped trees, past riding stables and the 70-acre San Antonio Zoo, and stops at the beautiful Oriental Sunken Gardens. The Zoo's collection of over 2500 animals, reptiles, and birds ranks with the finest in the world. The site, with rolling terrain and high limestone cliffs, has made possible the creation of open barless pens and pits, in many cases resembling the native habitat of the animals.

Near the park also is Witte Museum, housing a variety of exhibits. Not far away is McNay Art Institute, one of the foremost modern museums in the nation. And the Hertzberg Circus Collection in the public library never fails to fascinate the young and the young at heart.

For those with misgivings about the August weather this far south, let us assure you that ours is an equable climate. We are 700 feet above sea level, and cooling breezes from the Gulf of Mexico make summer enjoyable—our mean summer temperature is 78.8 degrees.

San Antonio is a lady with a past, of which she's rightfully proud. She's also a lady with a future, it would appear, judging from the fact that the census bureau called her the nation's fastest-growing major city the last time it counted noses—of which, incidentally, San Antonio has some 600,000 (not one of which is blue).

If your desire happens to be for gaiety, for laughter and enjoyment, come to see us next August. San Antonio, alluring enchantress that she is, will welcome you with open arms.

Nearby Attractions

Northeast and north of San Antonio are the picturesque Hill Country and the beautiful Highland Lakes area. The streams and lakes offer excellent fishing, and there are many lovely scenic drives and picnic spots. Dude ranches abound in and around Bandera.

To the northeast are the cities of New Braunfels, San Marcos, and Austin. New Braunfels, settled in 1845 by German immigrants, retains its Old World flavor to this day. San Marcos attracts many visitors to the underground sights of Wonder Cave and the equally sightly, though quite different, water show at its Aquarena. Austin, the State Capitol, is also the home of the University of Texas and the Texas Memorial Museum.

Arced along the Gulf of Mexico to the southeast is one of the world's finest salt water recreation areas. Fishing, bathing, and beachcombing are unsurpassed. The Aransas National Wildlife Preserve and the Padre Island recreation center are in this region. At Kingsville, to the south, is the headquarters of the famed King Ranch.

To the south and southwest, within an easy three-hour drive, is Old Mexico. There are several colorful Mexican border cities, and all have interesting night clubs, markets, and gift shops. Bullfights are frequently staged. We highly recommend a side trip to Mexico on your free weekend or after the tournament.

To the west, Big Bend National Park offers the spectacular scenery of the Chisos Mountains. Not far away is the frontier town of Langtry, where Judge Roy Bean administered "law west of the Pecos."

For those who can stay an extra week, the Southwest Open—largest annual tournament in this part of the country—will be held on Labor Day weekend at the Statler Hilton in Dallas. You can relax with a complete change of pace for the intervening six days and then play in this second major event.

There is no better place for that period of relaxation than the Ft. Clark Guest Ranch. Here you can take it easy in historic, comfortable surroundings—or engage in a veritable host of activities. These include Chuck Wagon breakfasts, horseback riding, hiking and exploring, fishing, swimming, golf, tennis, and outdoor barbecues in the evening. Also on tap are excursions to the exciting border city of Piedras Negras and to Alamo Village Vacationland. Alamo Village is an authentic reconstruction of San Antonio as it appeared when the Alamo fell. The shooting site for John Wayne's movie, "The Alamo," it is now a "different" mecca for visitors to the Old West.

In cooperation with the Ft. Clark management, we hope to make a special package vacation plan available to USCF members for several days beginning August 26th. More about that in a later issue.

Entertainment Program

We do not intend to make "tournament widows" of your womenfolk from August 13th through 25th. We want you and yours to enjoy San Antonio. For perhaps the first time in U.S. Open history, a real entertainment program is being planned. Already on the schedule for our group are:

Two fashion shows for the ladies.

At least one Bridge Tournament.

A Swim Party.

Two tours—one of the military installations, another of the missions and historical sites.

A special night at "Fiesta Noche del Rio."

Other attractions will be announced as they are added to the schedule.

Travel Convenience

You may not realize how easy and inexpensive the trip to San Antonio can be for you. A few examples:

If you plan on driving from Salt Lake, Chicago, or Cleveland—leave Saturday, August 11th and you will be here in plenty of time for the first round.

You can drive from New York City at a relaxed pace and need not start before Friday evening, August 10th.

Round trip bus fare from Seattle (about the farthest chess center) is less than $100.

Prefer flying? Round trip from Los Angeles can be as little as $121.

See the Next Chapter!

Like the old-time serial at your neighborhood movie, we shall leave the best till last. Next month, details on the wonderful facilities of our Tournament Headquarters, the Gunter Hotel. A rundown on the very low cost of all facilities during your stay in San Antonio. An explanation of the Handicap System. And the first announcement concerning playing schedules and prize lists.

Meantime, make your plans now for a family vacation in Texas. Have the rest of your family read this article—we would like to see all of you in San Antonio this August!

All visitors to San Antonio will "Remember The Alamo"

GELLER—1

YANOFSKY—0

KING'S INDIAN

Yanofsky's 13. ...., P-K4? (13. ...., B-Q2!) closes the center and Geller builds up a winning king-side attack. The key move in White's plan is 15. B-QB3! which ties the Black forces to the Queen's wing for so long that he is unable to regroup in time to fend off the attack on his King.

RIVISE, WEINBERGER TIE

Irving Rivise of Los Angeles and Tibor Weinberger of Glendale tied for the California State Championship with scores of 6-2. California junior champion Walt Cunningham of Arcadia was third (5-3) and Zoltan Kovacs of Los Angeles was fourth with 4-3½. Nine players competed in the event, which was played at the Herman Steiner Chess Club and directed by Gordon Barrett. (For cross-table see March CHESS LIFE).

NOMINATIONS WANTED

The Nominating Committee of USCF requests the help of the membership in suggesting suitable candidates for next year. The offices to be filled are eight USCF Vice-Presidents, one in each of the eight USCF Regions: I New England, II Eastern, III Mid-Atlantic, IV Southern, V Great Lakes, VI North Central, VII Southwestern, VIII Pacific.

Names of suggested nominees may be sent to any member of the nominating committee listed below.

CHAIRMAN, Kenneth Grant, 1735 Seminole Av. NW, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

William Trinks, 2714 Cleveland St., Hammond, Ind.

Henry E. Rock, Hinsdale R.D., Beckett, Mass.

Dr. Alex Janushkowski, 4405 Stockton Blvd., Sacramento 25, Calif.

Peter Lahde, 80 Lyle Lane, Nashville 11, Tenn.

AT HOME

USCF Master Donato Rivera, who had been residing in Brooklyn, returned home last summer to continue his education at the University of Puerto Rico. Thereupon he soon won both the U. P. R. Championship and the first Puerto Rico Open. He regards the following as his best game from the former event.

HROMADKA SYSTEM

MCO 9: p. 230, c. 24, (n:1)

|             |       |           |       |
|-------------|-------|-----------|-------|
| F. Martinez |       | D. Rivera |       |
| 1. N-KB3    | P-K3  | 4. P-Q5   | PxP   |
| 2. P-Q4     | N-KB3 | 5. PxP    | P-KN3 |
| 3. P-B4     | P-B4  |           |       |

Black works it into his favorite Hromadka (or Benoni) System.

|         |       |
|---------|-------|
| 6. N-B3 | B-N2  |
| 7. P-K4 | P-Q3  |
| 8. B-Q3 | ..... |

Alternatives are 8. P-KN3, 8. N-Q2, and 8. B-K2.

|         |       |
|---------|-------|
| 8. .... | O-O   |
| 9. O-O  | ..... |

Or 9. P-KR3.

|         |       |
|---------|-------|
| 9. .... | N-R3! |
|---------|-------|

This is preferable to 9. ...., P-QR3; 10. P-QR4, B-N5.

|            |       |
|------------|-------|
| 10. P-QR3? | ..... |
|------------|-------|

Too passive. More active is 10. N-Q2, N-B2; 11. P-QR4!, P-QR3; 12. P-B4! But not 10. BxN?, PxP and Black has the two Bishops and play on the QN-file.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 10. .... | N-B2  |
| 11. Q-B2 | R-K1  |
| 12. N-Q2 | ..... |

Less entangling is 12. P-R3, followed by 13. B-KN5, 13. B-KB4, or 13. B-K3.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 12. .... | N-R4  |
| 13. R-Q1 | ..... |

Not 13. P-B4?, B-Q5ch; 14. K-R1, Q-R5, threatening 15. ...., N-N6 mate.

|          |        |          |       |
|----------|--------|----------|-------|
| 13. .... | B-N5   | 16. N-B1 | B-K4  |
| 14. P-B3 | B-Q5ch | 17. B-K3 | ..... |
| 15. K-R1 | B-Q2   |          |       |

17. Q-B2 prevents the incursion of the Black Queen.

|           |       |             |       |
|-----------|-------|-------------|-------|
| 17. ....  | Q-R5  | 20. R-Q2    | P-R4  |
| 18. QR-B1 | P-QN4 | 21. R/2-B2? | ..... |
| 19. Q-B2  | Q-B3  |             |       |

White should restrict Black's KN, preserve his KB, and menace 22. P-B4 with 21. P-KN3.

|          |      |          |       |
|----------|------|----------|-------|
| 21. .... | N-B5 | 24. PxP  | RPxP  |
| 22. B-K2 | NxB  | 25. N-Q1 | N-N4! |
| 23. QxN  | P-N5 | 26. R-Q2 | N-Q5  |

Position after 26. ...., N-Q5

Now, in addition to this Q-side pawn-majority and control of the QR-file, Black obtains the clear advantage of two Bishops for two Knights.

|         |       |
|---------|-------|
| 27. BxN | ..... |
|---------|-------|

If 27. Q-Q3 or Q-B4, (Black threatened to win the Queen or the exchange); 27. ...., B-N4 wins a piece.

|              |      |           |       |
|--------------|------|-----------|-------|
| 27. ....     | BxB  | 30. P-KN3 | P-R4  |
| 28. N(B1)-K3 | R-R7 | 31. K-N2  | P-N4! |
| 29. N-B4     | B-N4 |           |       |

Black intends to fully exploit his Bishops by opening the position.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 32. K-R1 | P-N5! |
| 33. K-N2 | ..... |

Not 33. PxP?, RxKP!; 34. QxR, Q-B8 mate!

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 33. .... | Q-N3  |
| 34. N-B2 | P-B4  |
| 35. Q-Q3 | ..... |

White's position comes unstuck and he loses a piece. If 35. KPxP, RxQ; 36. PxQ, B/4xN wins and if 35. BPxP, RPxP followed by 36. ...., B/5xN and 37. ...., RxKP wins.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 35. .... | PxPch |
| 36. KxP  | ..... |

Or 36. QxP, PxP and 37. ...., P-K6 wins for Black.

|          |        |          |       |
|----------|--------|----------|-------|
| 36. .... | PxPch  | 39. K-N2 | QxNch |
| 37. NxP  | BxN    | 40. QxQ  | RxQ   |
| 38. RxB  | Q-N5ch |          |       |

The remainder is a mop-up job.

|            |        |          |       |
|------------|--------|----------|-------|
| 41. R/4-B2 | R-K8   | 44. R-K2 | R/8xP |
| 42. K-R3   | K-N2   | 45. RxR  | RxR   |
| 43. K-R4   | R-QN8! |          |       |

And White resigned on his 65th move.

HAVING PERUSED . . .

Having perused the many games from the Open, Blake Stevens, chess editor of the San Antonio Sunday News, concluded that this one is, beyond a doubt, the most interesting of the lot.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 1. P-Q4  | P-Q4  |
| 2. P-QB4 | P-QB3 |
| 3. N-QB3 | N-B3  |

Against 3. N-QB3, instead of the more usual 3. N-KB3, Alekhine once suggested 3. ...., P-K4; 4. BPxP, BPxP.

|        |       |
|--------|-------|
| 4. PxP | ..... |
|--------|-------|

This is the Exchange Variation.

|         |      |
|---------|------|
| 4. .... | PxP  |
| 5. N-B3 | N-B3 |
| 6. B-B4 | P-K3 |

Or 6. ...., B-B4; 7. P-K3, P-K3; 8. Q-N3, B-QN5; 9. B-QN5, Q-K2, with equal chances.

|         |       |
|---------|-------|
| 7. P-K3 | P-QR3 |
| 8. B-Q3 | B-Q3  |
| 9. BxB  | ..... |

White could also play. 9. O-O or 9. R-QB1, for if 9. ...., BxB; 10. PxP, and his doubled KBPs are double-edged.

|           |       |
|-----------|-------|
| 9. ....   | QxB   |
| 10. O-O   | O-O   |
| 11. P-QR3 | ..... |

Except that White's Bishop was at K2, the position was the same as Keres-Spielmann, Zandvoort, 1939. Keres played 11. Q-N3.

|           |       |
|-----------|-------|
| 11. ....  | P-QN4 |
| 12. P-QN4 | B-N2  |

The Bishop has a better future with 12. ...., B-Q2, ...., KR-B1, ...., B-K1, ...., N-Q2, and ...., P-B3, followed by ...., B-N3 or ...., B-R4.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 13. R-B1 | QR-B1 |
| 14. B-N1 | N-Q2  |

This Knight is headed for QB5, an ideal outpost. But it leaves only the KR to defend the castled-position. A preferable scheme is 14. ...., N-N1 and the posting of the QN on QB5. And 14. ...., N-K2, with the doubling of Rooks on the QB-file, is sound too.

|          |      |          |       |

| 15. Q-Q3 | P-B4 | 18. N-B5 | R-QB2 |
| 16. N-Q2 | N-N3 | 19. N-K2 | ..... |
| 17. N-N3 | N-B5 |          |       |

This protects the QRP and seeks 20. N-B4, N-Q1; 21. P-N4.

|          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 19. .... | P-K4? |

A violent, disruptive break for freedom. But has Black anything better?

Mate must be respected.

|          |        |
|----------|--------|
| 22. .... | P-KR4? |
|----------|--------|

This loses, or sacrifices, the BP or the KRP. Vigorous, and not without promise, is 22. ...., P-B5! 23. PxP, RxP, followed by ...., P-Q5.

|          |      |
|----------|------|
| 23. P-R3 | P-R5 |

Having said A ...., If 23. ...., N-B3; 24. NxBP and if 23. ...., N-R3; 24. NxKRP.

USCF RATING SUPPLEMENT – APRIL, 1962

By GARY SPERLING, USCF Rating Statistician

This supplement, the first from your new USCF Rating Statistician, also contains the first message from the Rating Department since 1960. This note has been included in order to call the attention of the membership to the following points:

1. The rating lists can only be as accurate as the tournament reports which we receive. These reports should be sent in within two weeks of the close of the tournament. While this may seem to unduly handicap the organizers of a large tournament, it must be kept in mind that, because our rating formulas accentuate the most recent performances, we must have all tournaments rapidly reported in order to rate them in the proper chronological order.
2. The rating fee is ten cents per game actually played.
3. To report a rated match, simply submit a report of the final score signed by both contestants (or an impartial match director) with the appropriate rating fee. That's all there is to it! (Matches, unlike tournaments, do not have to be sponsored by a USCF-affiliate to be rated.)

4. In the future, anti-attrition points will be added on at the end of the year according to the following schedule:
Tournaments of 1-4 rounds—0 points
Tournaments of 5-10 rounds—1 point
Tournaments of over 10 rounds—2 points
5. In the past, because it has been so understaffed, the Rating Department has been rather slow and negligent in answering its correspondence. Due to recently made changes, however, we are now in a position to handle each letter with the proper care and promptness. So, if you have a question (or complaint!) about your rating or the rating system in general, why not drop me a line?

The following supplement contains the names of 1852 players, including 64 masters. It represents the results of 133 tournaments and 2614 individual performances.

In the United States

August Otten posted a perfect 6-0 to take first prize in the February USCF Rating Tournament in New York City. Arthur Spiller, 5-1, was second and Jose Serenyi, Stuart Chagrin, and Richard Egan—all 4½-1½—placed third through fifth respectively.

The March event was won by Russell Chauvenet of Silver Spring, Md. (5½). Serenyi (5) was second and Richard Egan nosed out Dr. Ariel Mengarini (both 4½) for third.

For the second successive year Oliver Hutaff, of Wilmington, has won the North Carolina Invitational Tournament with a score of 3½-1½. Currently state champion, Hutaff went through undefeated as he out-distanced Dr. A. M. Jenkins of Raleigh, 3-2; David Steele of Raleigh, Ronald Simpson of Chapel Hill, and Jerry Fink of Durham, all tied at 2½-2½; and Vernon Robinson of Chapel Hill, 1-4. The Invitational, an annual round robin involving North Carolina's highest ranked players, was held in Raleigh and directed by Dr. Stuart Noblin.

* * *

Irving Rivise, California co-champion, won the championship of the Steiner Chess Club with a score of 9-2. Jack Moskowitz placed second, handing Rivise his only defeat, and finishing with 8½-2½. Tibor Weinberger, the "other" California co-champ, was third with 7½.

Jude Acers, 5-0, swept through the 27-player Delta Open, played in Greenville, Miss., March 23 and 24. Fenner Parham Jr. was second (3½), John Poole and William Fowler tied for third and fourth (3 each). Jeff Liddell directed.

The central Pennsylvania town of State College recently held a scholastic chess tournament under the auspices of Recreation Director John Dittmar. The Elementary Schools Division was the most popular, with 11 entries, including 3 girls, and this 5-round Swiss was won by 6th grader Dennis Cornhill. The Junior and Senior High events were round robins with 6 and 5 entries respectively. Brothers Martin and Howard Budd, tied for first place in the Junior High Section. In the Senior High event Charles Eminhizer won by sweeping all his games. The tourneys were directed for the State College Recreation Board by USCF member John Morse and Mordecai and Sibyl Treblow.

The Dade County Open (Florida), played March 16-18, was won by Fred Borges (who also directed) with a score of 4½-½. Second was Jose Gerlein, from Colombia, who drew with the winner to post a final score of 4-1. Third place was taken by Frank Rose (3½). In an amateur event played at the same time, Carlos Martinez won with a score of 4½-½.

The Third El Paso Open, played February 23-25, attracted forty players and was won by Max Burkette of Albuquerque, N.M. who out-Solkoffed Jack Shaw, also of Albuquerque, and Mike Brame of San Antonio, all with 5-1. Henry Davis, San Antonio, Charles T. Morgan, Phoenix, Ariz., and Kenneth R. Smith, Dallas, finished in that order, each scoring 4½. International Master George Koltanowski directed.

* * *

Francisco Cardenas, with a score of 6-1, won the championship of the Hamilton Air Force Base (Calif.). Runner-up was tournament director Charles Savery (5½) and Mike Goodall (4½) was third.

* * *

E. S. Aley and Leonard Thomae each scored 4 points in the annual Club Tournament of the Mahoning Valley Chess Club, thereby being named co-champions in the 17-player event, concluded on Feb. 25. Aley, defending champion, won 3 and drew 2 while Thomae scored four wins against one loss to Aley. 2nd place went to Bob Glasberg who managed to draw with Aley in the final round.

* * *

Fred Foreman (5½-½) won the Metropolitan Pittsburgh Championship, February 10, 17, 24, ahead of Ralph Betza, William Byland, Woody Armstrong, and Martin Lubell—all of whom scored 4½. Thirty players competed in the event, directed by Dr. F. A. Sorensen.

PLATZ, LEES TIE IN MASS.

Dr. Joseph Platz of Hartford, Conn. and 19-year-old David Lees of Springfield, Mass. tied for first place in the 38th Annual Western Massachusetts-Connecticut Valley Tournament held in Springfield on February 18 and 25. Both players finished with scores of  $5\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  and since the tournament rules stated that there would be no tie-breaking in case of a first place deadlock, they were declared co-champions.

Douglas Grant of Stockbridge, Mass. took third in the record-breaking field of 78, with a score of 5-1, losing to Platz in the final round. The Class B prize went to James Fitzgerald of Springfield, while second and third in the B Class were awarded to Robert Bilodeau and Louis Petithory, both of North Adams, Mass. Jerome Webb of Springfield was tops in Class C.

Thirty-four unrated players took part in the event, the Unrated Prize going to Dennis Osmond of Wilbraham, Mass. who finished with a strong 5-1.

An interesting contrast was displayed in the first round, when the oldest player in the tournament, 78-year-old Karl Allured was paired with the youngest, 9-year-old Kenneth Howes. The youngster won the game, after a hard-fought battle.

The event was directed by Francis N. Keller Jr. and was sponsored by the Western Massachusetts-Connecticut Valley Chess Association.

SMITH CAPTURES TEXAS (Again)

USCF Master Kenneth R. Smith of Dallas continued his reign as Texas' number one player by winning the state championship, played in his home town on March 17 and 18, by a score of  $4\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . Robert Brieger and Eric Bone tied for second and third with scores of 3-2. The tournament, conducted by the Texas Chess Association, was directed by C. Fred Tears, Jr.

U.S. champion Larry Evans receives the Frank J. Marshall Trophy from Louis Wolff, president of the Marshall Chess Club. Others in the picture are: Jose M. Calderon, Micaela Babakin, Carlotta Lehmann, Frances Frazier, Greta Fuchs, Caroline Marshall and Saul Rubin. The first four ladies are holding prizes from the Marshall Women's Championship.

USCF Expert Marvin Rogan writes from Beersheba, Israel: "Please keep my rating active, if possible, as I intend to return to the U.S. in about 1-1½ years."

(Ed. note:—All USCF ratings remain "active" indefinitely, in the sense that established ratings are never discarded. As far as publication of ratings is concerned, each rating list—whether supplementary or annual—includes only those players who were active during the period covered by the particular list. But the ratings of all players are kept on file).

Rogan continues: "The Israeli Chess Federation has granted me the title of "candidate master" based on my USCF rating of expert. This enabled me to participate in the semi-finals of the Israeli Championship, from which I subsequently had to withdraw to begin work with the "Arid Zone Research Center" in Beersheba. I cite this as a practical application of the rating system for those USCF members who happen to be overseas."

Richard Long of Fort Smith, a student at Vanderbilt University, won the Arkansas Chess Championship for the second successive year, with a score of  $4\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . Second to fifth with 4-1, were Ronnie Taylor, Bill Jones, and former champions Sam Narkinsky, and Dennis Sims.

28 players participated in the event, which was directed by Dennis Sims.

* * *

Richard Noel of Chagrin Falls, Ohio (5-0) won the 56-player Gem City Open, played in Dayton on February and 25. No fewer than seven (!) players finished with 4-1: Duane Bellinger, George Berry, John Petrison, Wendell Lutes, Richard Ling, Vincent Mukaitis, and Dr. Val Berzzarins. Mrs. Jacqueline Piatigorsky of Los Angeles won the Women's prize, scoring 3-2.

* * *

The 25-player Berkshire Hills Tournament, played in Pittsfield, Mass. on March 18 and 25 was won by John Ducharme Jr. with a score of 5-1. Douglas Grant, Irving Pierce, Edward Kotski, and David Lees (all with  $4\frac{1}{2}$ ) finished in the order listed. The event was directed by Robert Bilodeau.

* * *

The Alaska Open ("Fur Rendezvous") played in Anchorage, February 22-25, was won by Oskar Weber with a clean 6-0. Juri Toomepuu nosed out Shane O'Neill (both  $4\frac{1}{2}$ ) for second. The 23-player event was directed by Janet Mathieson. The tournament was sponsored by the Willard Fiske Chess Club—formerly known as the Anchorage Chess Club.

Not 28. KxN??, P-Q5ch winning the Queen.

28. .... N-K6
Black has reestablished material equality but his Knight is adrift and the object of tactical turns.

29. R-K1 NxB
Forced. If 29. ...., N-B5; 30. N-K6, wins, and if 29. ...., R-K1; 30. R-KB4, wins.

30. BxN RxB
31. R-K8ch R-B1??
This loses by force. The position still requires resolving after 31. ...., K-R2! (32. R-R4, R-R4; 33. RxR#, QxR; 34. Q-Q3#, P-N3 (34. ...., Q-N3??; 35. R-R8# wins).

32. RxRch KxR
33. R-R4! P-Q5
If the Queen moves, 34. N-K6ch wins.
34. N-K6ch QxN
35. R-R8ch! .....

A nice and necessary Zwischenzug.
35. .... K-B2
36. QxRch Q-K2
37. QxQch .....

And White won the ending without any difficulty.

POWER PLAY

Black demonstrates the power of Rooks on the seventh and a passed Pawn.

R. Moore B. Shean
1. P-Q4 N-KB3 4. P-K4 P-Q3
2. P-QB4 P-KN3 5. P-B4 .....

3. N-QB3 B-N2
White charges with the Four Pawns Attack.

5. .... O-O
6. N-B3 P-B4
7. P-Q5 .....

Rankis-Collins, Marshall C. C. Champ., New York, 1961-62, continued: 7. PxP, Q-R4; 8. B-Q3, QxBP; 9. Q-K2, N-B3; 10. B-K3, Q-QR4; 11. R-QB1, B-K3.

7. .... P-K3
8. B-K2 PxP
9. KPxP N-R3

Black is preparing to break with ...., P-QN4.

Also good is 9. ...., B-B4; 10. O-O, N-K5; 11. NxN, BxN.

10. O-O B-Q2
11. P-KR3 R-N1
12. P-QR4? .....

This weakens QN4 too soon (before Black has played ...., N-B2) and does not really prevent ...., P-QN4. Thus 12. B-K3 at once is better.

12. .... N-QN5 14. Q-Q2 R-K1
13. B-K3 P-QR3 15. B-B2 P-QN4!

A sharp break in this type of position.
16. RPxP PxP
17. PxP? .....

This ruins the pawn-chain. Best is 17. P-QN3, for if 17. ...., N-K5? 18. NxN! BxR? (18. ...., RxN); 19. NxQP! and White wins at least a Pawn.

17. .... QNxP 19. QxN RxB
18. NxN NxN 20. QxQP .....

For the moment, the exchanges have left White a Pawn ahead.

20. .... KB-B1!
21. Q-Q5 BxNP

Position after 21. ...., BxNP
But the balance is quickly restored and the truth of the position revealed.

22. KR-Q1 .....

This loses the QNP. And probably the alternatives, 22. QxQ and 22. Q-R2, do too.

22. .... QxQ
23. RxQ B-B3

Or 23. ...., RxP; 24. BxP??, B-B3 winning a piece.

24. R-Q3 QRxP
25. R-KB1 BxN!

Sensible simplification. The rampaging Rooks and passed Pawn are enough to win the game.

26. RxB P-B5
27. K-R1 .....

If 27. R-B3, B-B4! 28. R-B3, (28. BxB, RxPch and mate in two) RxB! 29. R/3xB, P-B6 and Black wins.

27. .... P-B6
28. B-Q4 .....

Desperation. The direct attack on the Bishop and the indirect mating threat are too much to cope with.

28. .... RxP
Winning another Pawn and menacing mate in two.

29. R-B1 R-R7ch 31. K-B1 R-Q7!
30. K-N1 32. B-N1 .....

R(N)-N7ch
If 32. BxP, R-R8 mate, if 32. R/1xP, R-Q8 mate, and if 32. R/3xP, RxB wins.

32. .... P-B7!
33. BxR RxB

Or 33. ...., R-Q8ch and wins.
34. K-N1 R-Q7 38. K-N2 R-QB6
35. R/3-B1 39. R-B1 BxR

36. K-R1 B-B4ch 40. RxB K-N2
37. R(QB)-K1 41. P-B5 P-N4
42. Resigns
R-Q6

It has been said that the popularity of the miniature is universal. This California caper concludes quickly with a pure mate.

2. N-QB3 P-K4 4. B-B4 B-B4
3. N-B3 N-B3 5. P-Q3 .....

This is the Canal Variation, an important form of the opening.

5. .... P-Q3
6. B-KN5 B-K3

Better is 6. ...., P-KR3; 7. BxN, (if 7. B-R4, P-KN4) QxB; 8. N-Q5, Q-N3! (for if 9. NxP#?, K-Q1; 10. NxR, QxNP).

7. N-Q5! BxN
8. BxB Q-Q2

Black intends castling long and believes that opening his KN-file will help him. Otherwise, 8. ...., P-KR3, breaking the pin, would be natural.

9. BxKN PxB 11. P-KN3 O-O-O
10. P-B3 R-KN1 12. Q-R4 N-N1??

This loses the exchange and a Pawn. Best is 12. ...., QR-B1.

13. Q-N3! .....

Threatening 14. Q or BxP mate and 14. BxP.

Position after 13. Q-N3!

13. .... Q-N5??

And this allows mate. But if 13. ...., P-B3; 14. BxKBP, threatening 15. B-K6 and 15. BxR, wins for White.

14. BxPch K-Q2
15. QxP mate!

IMPORTANT NOTICE to All USCF Members and CHESS LIFE Subscribers

Revised U.S. Post Office Department regulations, in effect since January 5, 1962, increase by a substantial amount the cost of returning undeliverable second- and third-class mail to the USCF office.

This means that it is more important than ever before that members and subscribers notify us promptly of any change of address. If you are moving, be sure to give FOUR WEEKS' advance notice. Furnish us with a stencil impression of your old address from a recent issue or an exact reproduction, including the numbers and dates on the top line. And then —be sure to include your NEW address!

In this way you will help avoid unnecessary trouble and expense for us, and you will be sure of receiving every copy of CHESS LIFE without needless delay.

WINDSOR CASTLE Plastic Chessmen

THE WINDSOR CASTLE CHESS SET is the finest chess set available at such a moderate price. It is used exclusively in the U.S. Championship, U.S. Open, U.S. Amateur, etc., and is officially approved by the U.S. Chess Federation. This set is exactly the right size, weight and design for real chessplayers. Made of solid plastic that is practically indestructible even under the severest test, it is designed to last for years. Authentic Staunton design. King Height 4". Felts cemented permanently with special plastic glue. Loaded sets have big lead weights moulded into bases. Unloaded sets are much heavier than "weighted" chessmen made from plastic shells. Color is Black and Maple. Prices include handsome leatherette two compartment case. We pay all postage and handling costs.
