Fischer Returns

by J. F. REINHARDT

At 8 p.m. on Wednesday, August 25, Robert J. Fischer's chess clock began ticking for the first time in more than a year and a half.

That tiny sound, momentarily lost in a hubbub of newspaper and television photographers, was soon loud enough to be heard by chessplayers around the world. Bobby Fischer, so mysteriously inactive in master chess since his sensational 11-0 triumph in the 1963-64 United States Championship, was playing in the Capablanca Memorial Tournament.

When the sliding doors at the Marshall Chess Club were closed, Fischer was alone except for a referee. His opponent, and all the other tournament contestants, were in the ballroom of the Cuba Libre Hotel in Havana. More than 600 spectators were on hand to watch the play in Cuba; the Marshall club was jammed to capacity with fans who followed the game, move by move, on a demonstration board. For the first time in the 114-year history of tournament chess a player's moves were being transmitted by teletype. There have been many long-distance chess games, of course; but now, for the first time, one player in a tournament would be playing all his games by teletype while the other contestants met one another in the usual manner.

This unique arrangement came about after Fischer had been denied State Department permission to travel to Cuba. He had applied to the Department for permission to visit Havana as a journalist, intending to cover the event for both CHESS LIFE and the "Saturday Review". The Department, however, decided that Fischer's main reason for wanting to go was to play in the tournament; his journalistic labors would be merely incidental. When the adverse ruling was made public, a number of newspapers—including the N.Y. "Times"—ran editorials critical of the State Department's position.

The question of whether the State Department has, or should have, the right to restrict foreign travel by American citizens is a political one, not to be argued here. It seems clear, however, that the State Department ruling was quite sensible—indeed, unavoidable—if one grants that they do have a right to restrict such travel. Fischer would have gone to Havana with a prize in mind—but it wouldn't have been the Pulitzer Prize. Like any sensible person, Bobby would rather be Superman than Clark Kent.

At any rate, Fischer accepted the State Department ruling without protest and there was never any question of his going to Cuba on his own. Instead, arrangements were made with the Cuban committee—with the agreement of all the tournament contestants—to have him play the complete schedule from a room at the Marshall Chess Club. An open teletype and telephone line would be kept in operation for the month that the tournament lasted, paid for by the Cubans.

Then, suddenly, it seemed as if the entire thing would fall through. Fidel Castro was reported to have hailed the State Department ban as a "propaganda victory" for Cuba; Fischer fired back a cable in which he stated he would not play if the Cuban government used his participation for propaganda purposes. Castro, in reply, claimed that he had never said anything about the tournament to anyone and strongly implied that Fischer was looking for an excuse not to play. The next thing anyone knew—Fischer was playing.

We already reported, in our last issue, the results of Fischer's first two games: victories over Heinz Lehmann and former world champion Vassily Smyslov. The latest results, as we go to press, appear on p. 190.

Saul Rubin, president of the Marshall Chess Club, is in charge of the arrangements in New York. William and Kathryn Slater put in long hours at the teletype, both of them mastering that instrument in a remarkably short time. Moves are transmitted in full; e.g., "WHITES FIRST MOVE PAWN TO KING FOUR" and the elapsed time on the player's clock is sent with every move. In addition, the New York and Havana referees are in touch by telephone whenever any important point comes up.

In spite of the speedy transmission of moves, a five-hour playing session can last as much as eight hours—quite a strain on Fischer, especially with adjourned games to be considered. So far (this is being written on September 7) Bobby seems to be standing up to it quite well, but the tournament has a long way to go.

There were a lot of strained faces among the spectators in New York during the Parma-Fischer game. It was quite obvious, at an early stage, that Fischer couldn't win and the question was: Can he draw? He managed to, but later analysis may show that Parma had winning chances.

J. F. Reinhardt, who was New York referee in the first two games of the Capablanca Memorial, makes White's second move in Round I. Bill Goichberg, who relayed the moves from the teletype room, is in the foreground.

CAPABLANCA MEMORIAL

ROUND ONE

White gives up a pawn in the opening in a line that is supposed to offer him good attacking chances. In a remarkably short time, however, Fischer seizes the initiative. The neat bit of tactics on moves 22-26 produces a passed pawn that can't be stopped.

ROUND TWO

The ex-world champion takes on isolated doubled pawns, thinking that he can simplify into a draw. He plays too passively, however, and Fischer improves his position with every move. Smyslov resigned after 43., P-B6 without resuming play.

The Many Faces of the King's Indian

by PAL BENKO

This month I am presenting three of my games against some of my closest competitors at the recent United States Open Championship in Puerto Rico. All three are examples of the King's Indian Defense and help illustrate the many possibilities of that opening for both White and Black. The King's Indian is certainly still far from being refuted!

KING'S INDIAN DEFENSE

P. Benko		R. Byrne
1. P-Q4		N-KB3
2. N-KB3		P-KN3
3. P-B4		B-N2
4. P-KN3		O-O
5. B-N2		P-Q3
6. O-O		N-B3
7. N-B3		R-N1

This unusual looking move prepares Q-side action with P-QR3 and P-QN4, a variation popularized by Panno. 7., P-K4 is the other well-known path in this position.

8. P-Q5	N-QR4
9. N-Q2	P-B4
10. P-QR3	Q-B2
11. Q-B2

White gives up his plan to trap Black's Knight because if 11. N-N5, Q-N3; 12. P-QN4, NxBP and Black wins a pawn.

11.	P-QR3
12. P-N3	P-QN4
13. B-N2	PxP
14. PxP	P-K4!

A good move that looks ahead toward stopping White from his plan of an eventual P-K4, P-B4 and P-K5—as has happened in many games. If now 15. PxP e.p., BxP; 16. N-Q5?, RxB!

15. QR-N1	B-Q2
16. P-R3	N-R4
17. QB-R1	P-B4
18. RxR	RxR
19. P-K3	Q-Q1
20. N-K2	P-K5?

Positional misjudgment. Instead he should play 20., R-N3 and 21., N-N2.

21. BxB	NxB
22. Q-B3!

With this move White seizes the long diagonal and puts the pressure on Black's misplaced Knight. If now 22.

....., B-R5; 23. N-B4, N-N6; 24. NxN, RxN; 25. QxNch and wins. Or 24., BxN; 25. R-QN1, B-R5; 26. QxNch, KxQ; 27. N-K6ch, K-B2; 28. NxQch, RxN; 29. R-N6.

22.	B-K1
23. P-N4!

A move with a double purpose: to secure KB4 for the Knight and to open the KN-file for the attack.

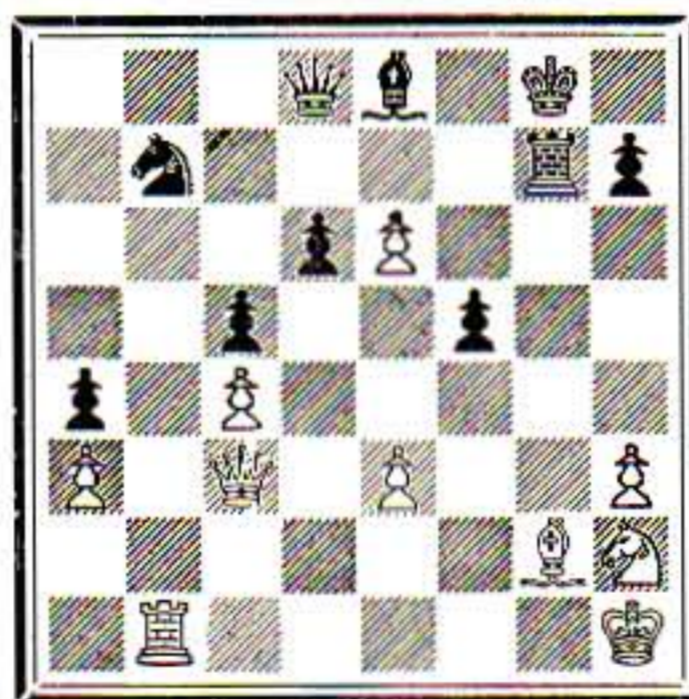

23.	R-N2
24. PxP	PxP
25. N-B4	R-KB2
26. R-N1	N-N2
27. P-B3	PxP
28. NxP	P-QR4

Black's plan is to bring his Knight to QN6, but there is not enough time for this. A more active try would have been 28., Q-R4.

29. K-R1!	P-R5
30. N-K6

Everything has been prepared and the time is ripe for the final assault. Black has nothing better than taking the menacing Knight. For example: 30., Q-R4; 31. QxQ, NxQ; 32. R-N8, R-K2; 33. N-R4 wins. Or 30., Q-B1; 31. N/3-N5, R-Q2; 32. Q-B6, B-N3; 33. NxN, RxN; 34. Q-K6ch, QxQ; 35. PxQ, P-R3; 36. N-B7 wins. Again, 30., Q-K2; 31. N/3-N5, R-B3; 32. RxN, etc.

30.	NxN
31. PxN	R-N2
32. N-R2!

Black's unfortunate Knight cannot well be protected. If 32., N-R4; 33. P-K7, RxP; 34. B-Q5ch, B-B2; 35. R-N1ch and mates. Or 33., QxP; 34. B-Q5ch, K-B1 (34., B-B2; 35. R-N8ch); 35. QxN, QxP; 36. R-K1, QxKRP; 37. Q-Q8 and wins. If 32., Q-B1; 33. P-K7, B-B3; 34. B-Q5ch, BxBch; 35. PxP and there is no defense to the threat of 36. RxN (35., K-B2; 36. P-K8(Q)ch). Black's only try is 32., RxB; 33. KxR, but then on 33., Q-N4ch; 34. K-R1! or 33., B-B3ch; 34. N-B3, Q-R5; 35. R-N1! wins.

32.	Q-N4
----------	------

Black tries to counter with a mate threat, but to no avail.

33. BxB	RxB
---------	-----

An exciting moment for the spectators, but after—

34. R-N1	B-B3ch
35. P-K4	BxPch
36. N-B3

Everything is under control and Black resigns.

KING'S INDIAN DEFENSE

P. Benko		B. Zuckerman
1. P-Q4		N-KB3
2. N-KB3		P-KN3
3. P-B3

A quiet variation which tries to avoid the well-known paths of the King's Indian.

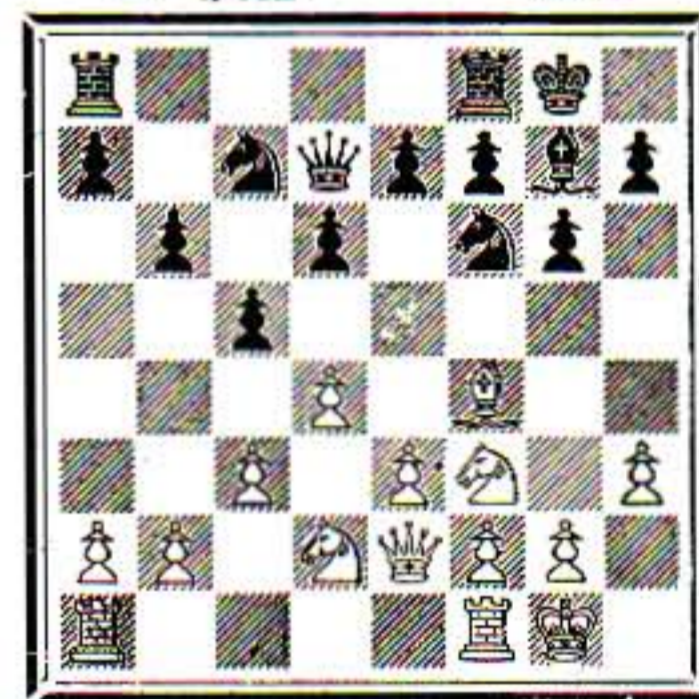

3.	B-N2
4. B-B4	P-Q3
5. P-KR3

Securing a safe retreat for the Bishop, but this was not yet necessary. After 5. P-K3, N-R4; 6. B-N5, P-KR3; 7. B-R4, P-KN4; 8. KN-Q2! gives White the better game.

5.	O-O
6. P-K3	P-N3
7. QN-Q2	P-B4
8. B-B4

8. P-QR4 and if 8., B-QR3; 9. BxB was more exact, but I wasn't sure that, B-QR3 was my opponent's intention.

8.	B-QR3
9. BxB	NxB
10. O-O	Q-Q2
11. Q-K2	N-B2

Looking at this position, and considering 12. PxP, NPxP; 13. P-K4, I suddenly recalled a game Bondarevsky-Bronstein in which, after 13., P-K4, Black got the better game and subsequently won the prize for the best-played game of the tournament. Of course I realized that this was no coincidence, since my opponent is famous for his opening knowledge. With my next moves I tried to steer the game into a different course.

12. P-QR4	P-QR3
13. P-R5	P-QN4?

An inaccuracy which steps right into line with White's intentions. He should play the Zwischenzug 13., PxQP! and then 14., P-QN4 with a satisfactory position.

14. PxP!

GAME 2

(Annotated for "Chess Life" by ROBERT J. FISCHER)

Caro-Kann Defense

TAL		PORTISCH
1. P-K4		P-QB3
2. N-QB3		P-Q4
3. N-B3		PxP
4. NxP		B-N5
5. P-KR3		BxN
6. QxB		N-Q2
7. P-Q4
7.		N/I-B3
8. B-Q3		NxN
9. QxN		P-K3
10. O-O		B-K2
11. P-QB3		N-B3
12. Q-R4		N-Q4

I tried 7. N-N5! against Cardoso (Portoroz, 1958), continued: 7., N/I-B3; 8. Q-QN3, P-K3; 9. QxP, N-Q4! with a good game for Black.

12., O-O looks perfectly safe.

13. Q-N4 B-B3

13., O-O?; 14. B-R6, B-B3; 15. Q-K4 wins the exchange.

14. R-K1

Zeroing in for a strike on K6.

14. Q-N3

15. P-QB4!?

Koblents suggests 15. P-R3.

15. N-N5

If 15., N-K2 Koblents gives 16. P-Q5, BPxP; 17. PxP, NxP; 19. Q-R4ch, but after 19., K-B1, White has nothing: 20. B-K4, B-Q5!; 21. R-K2, R-Q1. After 15., N-K2; 16. B-K3, QxNP; 17. QR-N1, Q-B6; 19. Q-K2 and White has play for the pawn.

16. RxPch

Ingenious but forced; otherwise he loses the QP for nothing.

16. PxR

17. QxPch K-B1?

On 17., B-K2, Tal gives a beautiful winning line: 18. B-N6ch, PxB (18., K-Q1; 19. B-B5, Q-B2; 20. B-B4, Q-B1; 21. Q-K4); 19. B-N5, Q-B2; 20. R-K1, Q-Q2; 21. QxPch, followed by RxB.

But after 17., K-Q1! White is forced to take the draw by perpetual with 18. Q-Q6ch, K-K1; 19. Q-K6ch.

18. B-B4! R-Q1

If 18., Q-Q1; 19. R-K1 and White has at least a draw.

19. P-B5!

19. R-K1?, P-B4!

19. NxB!

19., Q-R4?; 20. R-K1! (threatening B-Q6ch) forces mate.

20. PxQ

20. B-R6! and if 20., Q-B2; 21. QxBch, K-N1; 22. BxP! Correct is 20., QxNP! which draws (Koblents).

20. NxB

21. Q-N4

If 21. Q-B5?, N-K7ch and, NxP.

21. N-Q4

Possibly 21., P-N4 is a better chance but not 21., RxP?; 22. Q-B8ch, R-Q1; 23. QxRch!

22. PxP K-K2!?

Portisch gives as correct 22., P-N3.

23. P-N4! R-R1

23., NxP; 24. R-N1, RxP; 25. Q-K2ch, K-Q3; 26. P-R3 and RxP.

24. R-K1ch K-Q3?

Correct was 24., K-Q1; 25. R-K6 (25. P-N5, RxP; 26. Q-K6, K-B2; 27. R-QB1, R-Q1; 28. PxP, P-QN3 also holds for Black); 25., K-B2; 26. P-N5, KR-QB1.

25. P-N5! RxP

A blunder, but he's dead anyway. If (a) 25., K-B2; 26. R-N1!, KR-Q1; 27. P-N6ch, NxP; 28. Q-N3ch, R-Q3; 29. RxN, RxP; 30. R-N4 and White should win; (b) 25., KR-QB1; 26. Q-K6ch, K-B2; 27. PxP, PxP; 28. Q-B7ch wins; (c) 25., KR-Q1; 26. P-N6!, NxP; 28. R-N1!

26. R-K6ch K-B2

27. RxB! Resigns

McAuley Wins in Arkansas

The largest Arkansas Open ever held drew fifty players to the DeSoto Hotel in Hot Springs on July 30-August 1. Winner, on tie-break points, was New Orleans Expert A. L. McAuley who edged Ronnie Taylor of Ft. Smith, Arkansas. Each scored 4 1/2-1/2. Eric Bone, Baytown, Texas; Jimmy Stallings, Dallas, Texas and Steve Balsai, Hot Springs, finished third through fifth in that order, all with 4-1. The tournament, sponsored by the Arkansas Chess Association, was directed by Thomas L. Jordan Jr.

advantage. The difference between this position and the above-mentioned Russian game is that Black can no longer recapture with his NP, strengthening his center.

- | | |
|-----------|------|
| 14. | PxP |
| 15. KR-Q1 | Q-B1 |
| 16. B-K5 | P-B5 |

Obviously Black was worried about 17. P-B4. Now White must be careful not to allow a Black Knight to reach the dominating QB4 square.

- | | |
|-----------|-------|
| 17. BxKN! | |
|-----------|-------|

This position is an exception to the rule that Bishops are stronger than Knights.

- | | |
|----------|-------|
| 17. | BxB |
| 18. N-K4 | B-N2 |
| 19. N-Q4 | N-K3 |
| 20. Q-B3 | N-B4? |

Here was the last chance to capture White's strong Knight on Q4, with chances for prolonged resistance.

- | | |
|----------|-------|
| 21. NxN | QxN |
| 22. N-B6 | |

Now the difference is clear between Black's useless Bishop and White's active Knight. Even in an ending this Knight would be very strong placed on QN4. Now it makes possible White's control of the Q-file.

- | | |
|----------|------|
| 22. | B-K4 |
|----------|------|

Black wants to close the Q-file with this Bishop and also protect his weak KP, but there is no time. White was threatening 23. Q-Q5, QxQ; 24. NxPch and 25. NxQ. The obvious 22., KR-B1 loses instantly to 23. R-Q5! QxN; 24. R-Q8ch, B-B1; 25. QxQ, RxQ; 26. RxR. The best try was 22., QR-B1; 23. N-N4, Q-R2, but after 24. R-Q5, White keeps a long range advantage with his strong Knight and control of the Q-file.

- | | |
|----------|-------|
| 23. R-Q7 | B-Q3 |
| 24. R-Q1 | QR-B1 |

As good as any, since the loss of a pawn was unavoidable. The threat was 25. NxPch, BxN; 26. R/1-Q5, Q-B3; 27. RxB. On 24. KR-K1? follows 25. R/1xB and if 24., QR-K1; 25. R-R7, R-R1? 26. RxR, RxR; 27. NxPch, etc.

- | | |
|------------|-------|
| 25. R/1xB | PxR |
| 26. N-K7ch | K-N2 |
| 27. NxR | |

The simplest; White will win two pawns. There was no need to complicate the game with 27. N-Q5, which might also win.

- | | |
|----------|--------|
| 27. | QxN |
| 28. RxQP | K-N1 |
| 29. Q-B6 | Q-N2 |
| 30. RxP | Q-K5 |
| 31. R-N6 | Q-N8ch |
| 32. K-R2 | QxP |
| 33. P-R6 | |

Black gets White's QNP for his own QRP but it doesn't help him.

- | | |
|----------|---------|
| 33. | Q-N6 |
| 34. P-R7 | Q-R6 |
| 35. R-R6 | QxP |
| 36. QxQ | Resigns |

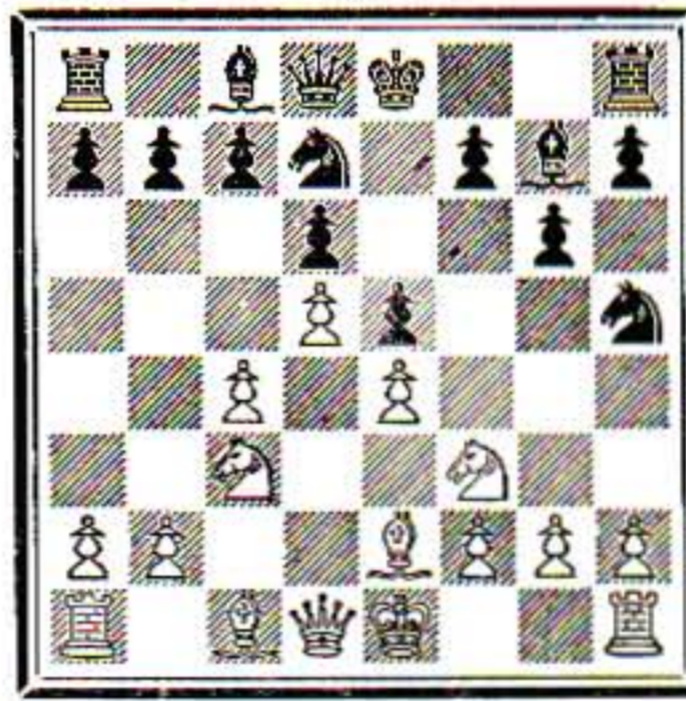

This pawn easily decides the issue.

A strange way to resign the game.

KING'S INDIAN DEFENSE

| 1. P-Q4 | N-KB3 |
| 2. P-QB4 | P-Q3 |

| 5. P-K4 | P-KN3 |
| 6. B-K2 | B-N2 |
| 7. P-Q5 | N-R4!? |

Avoiding the Petrosian variation. After 7., O-O; 8. B-N5, P-KR3; 9. B-R4, P-KN4; 10. B-N3, N-R4; 11. P-KR4! a position has arisen that is favorable for White and which is quite similar to Benko-Najdorf, Piatigorsky Cup, 1963.

- | | |
|---------|-------|
| 8. B-K3 | |
|---------|-------|

On 8. P-KN3, O-O; 9. N-Q2, I was planning 9., N-B4; 10. BxN, PxN; 11. QxP, P-B4—a pawn sacrifice that offers good chances for Black.

- | | |
|-----------|-------|
| 8. | O-O |
| 9. Q-B2 | N-B5 |
| 10. B-KB1 | P-KB4 |
| 11. P-KN3 | N-R4 |

Black could try to win a pawn by 11., PxP; 12. QNxP, NxP; 13. PxN, RxN, but after 14. R-QB1 White recovers the pawn with a good game.

- | | |
|-----------|-------|
| 12. B-K2 | N-B4 |
| 13. KN-R4 | |

Black already had a very satisfactory game and it seems that White overlooked his strong answer to the text move.

- | | |
|-----------|-------|
| 13. | N-B5! |
| 14. BxQN | PxB |
| 15. O-O-O | |

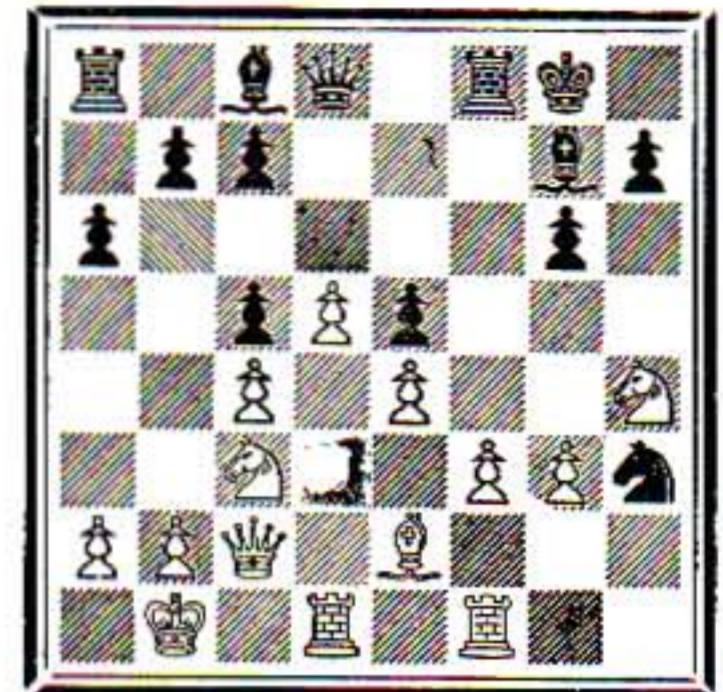

15. B-B1 was a more careful course to follow. White expects 15., NxB, but the Knight has a better move.

- | | |
|-----------|-------|
| 15. | N-R6! |
| 16. KR-B1 | P-QR3 |

A double-purposed move, avoiding 17. P-Q6, PxP; 18. N-N5 with counter-chances, and preparing an eventual break with, P-QN4.

- | | |
|-----------|-------|
| 17. K-N1 | P-B5 |
| 18. P-B3? | |
| 18. | PxP |
| 19. PxP | |

White has already been outplayed strategically, but he now commits a tactical error which costs him a pawn.

- | | |
|----------|-------|
| 19. | Q-N4! |
| 20. N-N2 | QxP |
| 21. N-K3 | B-R3 |

Black has everything in this position: an extra pawn and control of many good squares. He now even gets the idea of centralizing his KB on Q5.

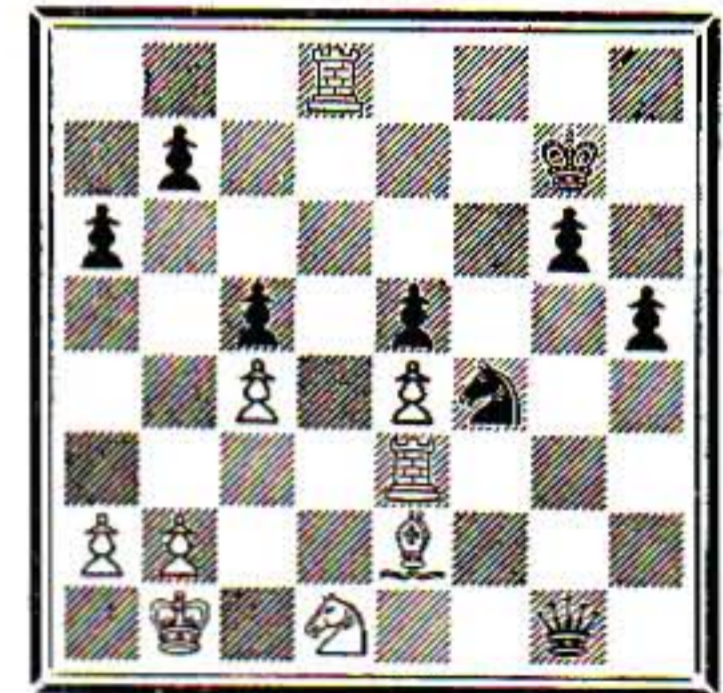

- | | |
|-----------|-------|
| 22. N-N4 | BxN |
| 23. PxB | B-K6 |
| 24. P-Q6! | |

The best chance for counter-play.

- | | |
|----------|--------|
| 24. | PxP |
| 25. Q-Q3 | N-B5 |
| 26. QxP | QR-Q1? |

Unnecessarily sacrificing three pieces for the Queen. After 26., B-Q5, White has only a few tactical tricks and should eventually lose. I chose the text move because in time pressure the position would be easy to play for Black and I would have all the tricks on my side.

- | | |

$100

An interesting position. White has the material advantage but Black has a dangerous passed pawn and it is difficult to coordinate the White pieces.

32. R-Q2

Too passive. A better job for the Rook would be harassing Black's King with 32. R-Q7ch, K-R3; 33. K-B2, P-R4; 34. R-Q8.

32. P-R5
33. B-B3 P-R6
34. K-B2 N-K3!

This sudden switch to the other side of the board is quickly decisive.

35. N-B2

Stops the pawn but loses the game. Anyhow, White was already defenseless.

35. N-Q5ch
36. K-Q3 Q-N8ch
37. K-B3 P-QN4
38. PxP Q-B8ch

White resigns. It's mate after 39. K-Q3, P-B5.

PROFILE OF A PRODIGY: The Life and Games of BOBBY FISCHER

by FRANK BRADY

Bobby Fischer burst on the chess world before he was twelve, and in his short life he has become one of the most electrifying, well-known, and controversial players of all time. Now, in Profile of a Prodigy, Frank Brady (who has known Bobby Fischer since he was eleven years old) presents the first authoritative account of Fischer's life and chess career.

Many of the facts, observations, and quotations have never appeared in print before. And in his close-up portrait, Brady refutes, or at least explains, some of the aspects of Bobby Fischer's personality that have been publicly criticized. In addition to the biography, Mr. Brady has annotated, with diagrams, 75 of Fischer's most important games, ranging from his first tournament wins at the age of eleven to his games with Botvinnik, Reshevsky, Tal, Smyslov, Petrosian, and others.

Arthur Spiller scored 5-1 to take a clear first in the 20-player Masters and Experts Tournament held at the Santa Monica Bay (Calif.) Chess Club from July 16-August 25. Soltis Wins NYC Junior Andrew Soltis successfully defended his New York City Junior Championship title in a field of 92 players, largest ever for a USCF-rated junior tournament.

The event, played August 21-22 and 28-29, saw Soltis win out on tie-break over Marc Yoffie, each scoring 7-1. Yoffie led by a half-point going into the final round, but then drew with Steve Grant while Soltis defeated Michael O'Donnell. Soltis and Yoffie are both 18 years old and students at CCNY.

Grant finished third and Doug Pader fourth, both with 6½-1½. The top four players were all undefeated. Fifth through eighth, with 6-2, were Ralph Betza, Steve Morrison, Charles Steir and O'Donnell.

Twenty-one of the players were under 16 years of age: the best scorer among these was 14-year-old Sal Matera, 5½-2½, who becomes the first New York City under-16 champion. Second was Kenneth Schaeffer, 5-3, followed by Steve Spencer and Richard Paviolitis, 4½-3½. The under-13 title was won by James Lane, 2-6. Class prize winners were John Hechtlinger ("B"—5½); Eugene Koenig ("C"—4); Laurence Christopher ("D"—4); Matthew Weinstein (Unrated—5½). The last-named had considerable competition since there were 49 unrated players!

Previous N.Y.C. Junior Champions are Bernard Zuckerman (1961), Asa Hoffmann (1962) and Soltis (1964). This year's entry exceeded the combined entry of the three past tournaments. William Goichberg was the tournament director and Grandmaster William Lombardy did the adjudications.

Thomas Cunningham, Steve Moffit and Bill Jones all scored 4-1 in the Houston (Tex.) City Championship on August 14-15. No tie-breaking was used in the 18-player event, so the city is blessed with three champions for the next year.

The Ashland Open Chess Festival, played in Ashland, Oregon on August 21-22, ended in a 5-0 sweep for USCF Master Ivars Dalbergs. Arthur Wang, Dan Wade, Don Sutherland, and Clay Kelleher all scored 4-1 and finished second through fifth in that order. Thirty-six players competed.

Valentin Tirman edged out Wayne Marvin for first place in the Las Vegas (Nevada) Summer Tournament, played May 5 through June 16. Bob Wigmore and S. Erenyi were third and fourth in the 18-player field.

The 1965 Class A Championship of the Hartford (Conn.) Chess Club ended in July in a 10-0 sweep for Lawrence Noderer. Dr. Joseph Platz, with 7½ points, was second and Dr. Philip Shelton, with 6½, took third. Eleven players competed in the round robin event which began last January.

Grandmaster William Lombardy set a new record in clock simultaneous play, taking on 18 Arizona players in Phoenix on July 16. Lombardy, in spite of the further handicap of playing the black pieces against all his opponents, scored 16 wins and yielded only two draws—to Sam Priebe, twice Arizona champion, and to Geoffrey Gilbert. More than 100 persons attended the event and almost half remained after 1:30 a.m. to hear Lombardy lecture on various aspects of the game.

Minnesota downed Manitoba in the thirtieth annual match in this series, played in Detroit Lakes, Minn. on June 20. The score, in games actually played, was 12-7 but Manitoba was short-handed and had to forfeit on 6 boards, making the total 18-7.

M. Hamermesh, yielding only two draws, scored a 9-1 victory in the Argonne National Laboratory Tournament in Argonne, Illinois. S. Mihailovich and D. Kucera tied for second and third in the 11-player round robin with scores of 7½-1½.

The Plainfield (N.J.) Chess Club, which meets every Friday evening at the Sanger-Halle Building, 220 Somerset St., North Plainfield, placed first in the 7-team Raritan Valley League and third in the 9-team North Jersey Chess League, behind Verona and Jersey City. The club, which now boasts a total of 68 members, has as its champion Ali Yorgan of Fanwood. Second prize in its championship tournament went to last year's champion, Fred Kramer of North Plainfield and third prize was won by Albert Boczar of South Plainfield.

Clarence Kalenian scored 4-0 to take first place in the 12-player Cheltenham Art Center Invitational, played in Pennsylvania on June 26-27. Kalenian is currently the Pennsylvania State Champion. David Spiro, Alan Soble and Walter Fraser finished second through fourth with scores of 3-1.

MODERN CHESS OPENINGS

10th Edition

This is the 10th Edition—a comprehensive revision—of the “chess player’s bible.” Since it was first published more than a half century ago, Modern Chess Openings has been regularly kept up to date. Now it has been enlarged and updated by International Grandmaster Larry Evans and edited by Chessmaster Walter Korn, who maintains continuity with his previous editions of this classic.

The authentic standard reference, this volume contains everything the chess player needs in order to gain a thorough understanding of contemporary opening practice—often extending into the middle game. Including both established practice and recent innovations, the book draws upon Mr. Evans’ tournament experience and Mr. Korn’s seasoned judgment. As in the previous edition, the openings are divided into King’s Pawn Openings, Queen’s Pawn Openings, the Indian Systems, and Irregular Openings. These are systematically organized to show all main variations in consecutive sequence and to provide extensive and complete sub-variations. Clarity and economy of space in the tabulation of material and thematic continuity make this new edition of Modern Chess Openings a noteworthy successor to earlier editions of this masterwork.

THE EDITOR

Walter Korn assumed editorship of Modern Chess Openings in 1946, its Seventh Edition, which he completely revised. He is FIDE International Judge for Chess Compositions and a distinguished contributor to many chess magazines. Mr. Korn is author of the book The Brilliant Touch which contains 240 chess brilliancies chosen from among the finest games played in recent years.

THE REVISER

Mr. Evans is author of New Ideas in Chess, a book in which the many aspects of strategy are illustrated from actual play.
